Parish Bulletin

9th September, 2012

Safeguarding in the Diocese

The National Board for Safeguarding Children in the Catholic Church has examined in detail the practises of our diocese and Bishop Buckley has published the full text of the report. The complete report is available for reading at www.corkandross.org. Anyone who wants a copy can also get a printed copy from our parish office.

Bishop Buckley has also issued a pastoral letter to coincide with the publication of the NBSCC report. Some copies of the letter are available at the churches this weekend. Further copies are also available at the parish office and the diocesan website www.corkandross.org

It is reassuring to know that our diocese and our parish are following closely all the guidelines and regulations of both church and state in this matter. As a faith community, we need to keep in our prayers the healing of the children and young people who were hurt. The harm done by even one person leaves pain in the hearts of all concerned, including those who care for them.

The personnel of the diocese who have been trained to support people with safeguarding questions can be contacted at 021-4301717.
