Enniskeane Church cleanup

Many people will be aware that several decades ago the exterior of Enniskeane Church was cleaned to restore the sandstone to its original appearance. This was done by sand-blasting. This is no longer recommended. A new cleaning method which is eco-friendly and non-corrosive of the stonework is now available in Ireland. It will be used to clean our parish church on Mon 17th - Tues 18th of Sept (weather and machine hire permitting). The effect of the cleaning will not be evident for a few months until the algae, lichens and other dirt slowly falls away. While the work is being done, there will not be vehicular access to the church grounds.

Bengour Harvest Festival

New Numbers

Many thanks to all the parishioners who use the weekly numbered envelopes for the church collections. It's about ten years since they were introduced. In that time, some numbers have gone out of use due to people moving and people dying. Hence, we have a lot of numbered sets of envelopes that have become redundant. The new sets for the next year come into use in October. They will be distributed with the help of the parish assembly, finance committee and others.

To avoid waste we are changing everyone's number so that we need to order less of them. So when your new set arrives, it will have a new number for you.

It is also a good time for anyone who has not been receiving a set of envelopes to request one now. Please contact the parish office and a number and envelopes will be assigned to you confidentially.

What envelopes do

-- Many of the people who use the envelopes and have someone in the home who pays income tax allow the parish to reclaim some of the tax from the government. This has been really helpful in the parish in the past few years as we needed funds for building works. The form for this is available on the parish website. It works. It's simple. It's confidential. It's free.

-- Parishioners who go to Mass in another parish but use our envelope in the collections there are still helping our parish because those envelopes are returned to us regularly from Bandon, Newcestown, Dunmanway, Clonakilty, Kilmichael, Timoleague, Rossmore – and one or two from further afield.

Similarly, people who come to Mass in our parish and use an envelope from another parish contribute to their own parish as we return their envelopes regularly.
