Praying through this together

It's been a long time since the parish printed a newsletter! And there's been so much happening in the meantime. This newsletter lists some of the milestones as we record the baptisms, marriages and funerals that have taken place in our parish in the past six months. Along the way, we are all doing the best we can to accompany people and families in these sacred moments of their lives.

Our parish faith community has blossomed in spite of and even through the restrictions that caused our churches to be closed, Mass to go behind closed doors, and almost everything we do having to be done differently.

I'll be forever grateful to our 'front-line parishioners' who have been so creative, supportive and active in sustaining our worship and service as an action of the whole community. We have, hopefully, strengthened our sense that the parish is truly about a believing and active community of people of all ages.

The 'new normal' brought new needs: supplies of sanitisers, sanitising solutions, stewards, cleaners and more. And again, all these have been found. Thanks to people who donated supplies and to the more than 20 people who recently signed up to be on a rota to steward.

Around us we have also seen the great community spirit of neighbours and of the local business people who ensured that no one was left short of anything. Sadly, it looks like we will not be able to continue our parish Station Masses in homes this autumn. That's a great loss to our spiritual life and our community life. We may organise Masses in church instead.

Our economic reality has also changed significantly. Most people's budgets are changed. That's true of the parish, too. With limited numbers at Mass, our collections are down to around 30%. Many people posted offerings by cheque and dropped donations to the office and parochial house. Thank you all for the kindness.

The parishes of the diocese are working on ways of helping parishioners to donate online and by standing orders. More about this soon. We will also be distributing the new set of annual envelopes in the coming weeks.

Confirmation and First Holy Communion

Many of these were deferred due to Covid19. We are letting the schools get back to their new routines before we plan dates for these. We will work with the teachers this coming week to plan dates for these
